BOARD OF FORESTRY WILL AID IN PLANTING OUT TREES

It Is Desired to Meet Part of Home Demand for Lumber by Foresting the Waste Places.

A very important movement has been inaugurated by the Board of Agriculture and Forestry in the proposed plan to assist in foresting the waste places of the Territory in the interest of the lumber trade of the country. In the circular making this proposition, President Thurston of the board says:

"Among the imports into Hawaii for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, wood products ranked seventh in value, the total for timber, lumber, door and window fittings and for furniture being $528,110. In a price list recently issued by one of the leading lumber dealers of Honolulu ordinary rough lumber, northwest and redwood, is quoted at from $30 to $35 per M, while redwood fence posts are listed at 24 cents each. No stronger commentary is needed on the desirability of a local supply.

MAKES AN OFFER.

"To assist in meeting the demand, the Division of Forestry stands ready, so far as its limited appropriation will permit, to render practical and personal assistance to individuals or corporations desiring to establish forest plantations, wood lots or windbreaks, or to do other forest work.

"This assistance is given in two ways:

"First, by keeping constantly on hand fresh seed of the more important native and introduced trees and also a limited number of nursery grown seedlings of the kinds most in demand; the seed and plants being sold at prices just covering the cost of collection or growing.

"Second, by advice and suggestion as to the kinds of trees best adapted for the purpose, locality and situation of the person desiring to plant, and the methods to be pursued to secure the best results in the planting.

"On each of the larger islands of the Hawaiian group there are considerable areas of forest, which play an important part in protecting the water sheds of the streams needed for fluming or irrigation, but unfortunately the native Hawaiian trees are for the most part not of economic importance. Where they are of value it is because of their worth as cabinet and other high class woods, rather than because they furnish construction material. To meet the ever growing demand for wood suitable for the various purposes of domestic supply, fence posts, railroad ties, bridge timbers and general construction, not to mention fuel, which in certain districts is an important consideration, the Territory stands in great need of forest plantations of timber producing trees.

"Tree planting on a large scale in this country is necessarily a somewhat expensive operation and when undertaken should be done advisedly and in accordance with a systematic plan. The purpose of the Division of Forestry in offering to cooperate with the individual planter is to stimulate interest in tree planting, and by the introduction of good methods to secure the best results in the work done. To explain the offer of cooperation is the object of this circular.

FAST EXPERIENCE.

"The recommendations of the Division of Forestry are based on what has been actually accomplished in the Territory, and on technical information brought together by members of the staff. During the past thirty years much tree planting has been done in Hawaii—many species of trees having been tried under a variety of conditions and in many localities. Some have succeeded well. Others, through their failure, have proved equally instructive. The planting has included roadside and ornamental planting, as well as wind breaks and forest plantations made primarily for commercial returns. As a result of all this work, much valuable information has been accumulated.

"The Division of Forestry stands ready to give advice as to the kinds of trees best adapted for particular needs and as to the methods which should be followed to insure success, in all classes of forest-tree planting. It will also undertake for a time to give advice on roadside and street tree planting, although this is not strictly within the province of forest work.

SERVICES WITHOUT COST.

"The Division of Forestry has already in hand sufficient information so that in many instances advice can at once be given to fully cover the needs of the applicant, particularly where only a limited area is to be planted. In other cases, and especially where planting is to be done on a large scale, an agent of the Division will visit the locality and inspect the conditions on the ground. Having become familiar through a personal examination with the situation, soil, exposure and other factors, he is prepared to make definite and comprehensive recommendations. These may sometimes be given verbally, but will usually be embodied in a planting plan. The planting plan includes a statement of the species best adapted for the desired purpose in the given locality, directions in regard to the starting and care of the seedling trees in the nursery, the preparation of the soil, transplanting and setting out, the proper spacing of the trees and the subsequent care necessary to be given them. When advisable a diagram or sketch plan illustrative of the arrangement or spacing of the trees accompanies the report.

"The services of the agent of the Division of Forestry are without cost to the applicant, but his expenses for traveling from Honolulu to the locality visited and return, and his subsistence must be borne by the applicant. When several persons on a single island are visited on one trip, the cost of the trip will be divided among them.

"As one of the objects of the Division of Forestry in co-operating with the individual planter is to secure the general introduction of better methods, the Division reserves the right to publish and distribute the plan and its results for the information of the public.

"The circular contains a form of agreement which must be signed by the applicant for assistance in foresting land under the provision of the offer and says that applications for aid will be considered in the order in which they are received, but precedence may be given to those likely to furnish the most useful examples. Applications for the assistance offered in the circular must be made in writing to the Superintendent of Forestry, postoffice box 331, Honolulu.
